Please watch for kids!!

School is out for summer and the kids are going to be outside playing. Please watch for those on bikes, skateboards or just those walking around. Please be cautious of kids playing in yards with balls that might go out into the street. We want everyone to have a fun and safe summer!!

It is that time of year again. Time to get the mowers out. For some that is great news and for others it is just another job. Please keep in mind that the city asks that you do NOT mow your clippings into the street. It makes a mess in our storm drains. Also, we want to remind you that it is your responsibility to keep your yards mowed in a timely fashion.

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN...

130 years ago, five diplomas awarded

Springville High School's first commencement took place at 8 p.m. Friday, June 11, 1886. The graduates were Charles A. Durno; Ida Marie Jeffries; John Mackie Van Houten; his sister, Nettie Rachel Van Houten; and Anetta Margaret "Nettie" Wilson, 17, valedictorian. The location was Springville's 1864 Methodist Church, on the south side.

It was a long event. The school orchestra played, young children sang, and there were three vocal solos, a duet, and a mixed quartet. Also: a recitation by school girls, five senior essays, speeches by the principal and superintendent, and an "oration and valedictory" by Miss Wilson.

Lives of the graduates

Charles Durno, first child of George and Elizabeth Christman Durno, was born about 1868. In the 1890s, he worked on Iowa newspapers, including the Saturday Herald at Independence and the Walker News. Before 1901, he married, but his wife's name is unknown. Later he worked in Illinois, then became a typesetter at the Government Printing Office in Washington, D. C. At 39, he died of typhoid fever Aug. 29, 1907.

Ida Jeffries was born about 1869 in Jones County to Marquis and Mary Hines Jeffries. Her mother died, and in 1881 her father married Mary Ann Kinkead Shellhammer. After high school, Ida became a teacher. In fall 1887, she taught Grange Hall School south of Springville.

On June 12, 1900, she married Carl Macy Smith in Oelwein. He was born in 1873 at Springdale in Cedar County. The couple lived in Oklahoma City (1910 census), Des Moines (1915), and Milwaukee (1920). Only Ida, 62, appeared in the 1930 census in Milwaukee. No other information was found.

John Van Houten was born April 14, 1865, son of Stephen and Angeline Smith Van Houten. John married Ellen Monahan in Hampton, Iowa, Sept. 1, 1891. Her parents came from Ireland, but Ellen was born in Wisconsin. Between 1892 and 1910, they had seven children: Philip, Cecil, Mary Angeline, Erma, John J., Clement, and Virgil. The elder John died Aug. 25, 1945.

Nettie Van Houten, John's younger sister, was born May 11, 1869. She was the only class member who stayed in this area. On Nov. 16, 1887, she married Edward Walter Bowdish, a Waubeek area farmer. They had two children, Rubie Angeline Plumly Shellhammer and Fred P. Bowdish. Nettie died March 11, 1951, and is buried in Jordan's Grove Cemetery.

Anetta "Nettie" Wilson was born May 27, 1869, to William Wilson Sr., 68, and his second wife, Sarah Johnston McAttee, 42. Their only child, she had 14 older half-siblings; each parent had been married before. At 18, Nettie was described as "a lady of far more than ordinary accomplishments." She married Milo Lincoln Lyon, a Coe College graduate, Nov. 3, 1889.

Milo taught school at Paw Paw, Ill., and was principal at Ashton and Freeport, Ill. By 1910, they lived in Chicago with their children: May, William M., Wilfred M., and Margaret. Milo died in 1948. Nettie, who began using her middle name (Margaret), moved to California. She died May 1, 1961, in Ventura County, almost 75 years after her Springville graduation.

(Thanks to the Rev. Anna Mae Peck of Vermillion, S.D., for research assistance. kt)

Marquette and Joliet were here

On June 25, 1673, the first Europeans to set foot on what is now Iowa were Father Jacques Marquette and Louis Joliet. Exploring the upper Mississippi, they landed their canoes near the mouth of the Iowa River in present-day Louisa County, claiming the area for France. Marquette, 36, was a French Jesuit missionary. Joliet, 28, was born near Quebec City, Canada.

The mouth of the Mississippi had been discovered May 8, 1541, by a Spaniard, Hernando de Soto. He named it Rio del Espiritu Santo, Spanish for "River of the Holy Spirit." The name Mississippi comes from an American Indian word meaning "Big River."

Springville's first high school was built in 1882. Mary Jane Kohl Smith of Cedar Rapids, SHS 1938, was in the last class to graduate from this building. It was razed in fall 1938, and the present high school-middle school was built on the site.

Flag Day meeting of historical group

The next Springville Area Historical Society meeting date is Tuesday, June 14, Flag Day, at 6:30 p.m. in the SAHS building next door to City Hall. Everyone interested is welcome

Ten persons attended the May 10 meeting. An extended discussion focused on the poor condition of the 130-year-old Brown family monument in the Springville Cemetery. At least two years ago, attention was called to the serious deterioration of the monument, but to date no action has been taken. The City of Springville owns the cemetery.

The zinc monument, marketed as "white bronze" in 1886, is the tallest in the cemetery. It marks the graves of Revolutionary War veteran Nathan Brown (1761-1842); his wife, Tamar; their son, Horace N. Brown; and other family members. Only one other Revolutionary War veteran is buried in Linn County.

Historian Karen Taylor reported on progress in obtaining a memorial from the VA for Robert L. Newman. He was a 1948 Springville High School graduate who served in the U.S. Navy and was lost at sea during the Korean War. Doug Beard and Joan White volunteered to search for information needed on the application.

In other business, SAHS members voted to purchase one of the new city banners, expected to be in place this fall. SAHS president James Crow appointed Bev Franks chairman of a public relations committee. No other members were named.

Also attending the May 10 meeting were Jean Schmidt, secretary-treasurer; Dave and Eleanor Kelley; Don McShane; and Pat Rose.

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY BOARD

It is that time of year again, school is out and the Summer Reading Program is beginning. This year's program begins on June 7th and will run through August 9th. As always this program is made possible by the support of local businesses and individuals. So far we have received donations from Security State Bank, Hills Bank (who has supported this program for many, many years), Lang Agency, and Greenbriar Riding Academy. The Jones Regional Medical Center has donated once again a bicycle and helmet. Individuals in the community have also donated prizes for this program. Make sure your child and you take part in this program, what a great family activity. Once again Chili's is partnering with the library to help raise funds for the library. When you present a coupon each time you eat at Chili's, the library will receive 15% of your total bill. What a simple way to have an enjoyable time eating out and helping your local library at the same time. Coupons will be available at the library and city hall, so get yours today. A coupon is also included in this newsletter.

Harold Gray entertains large crowd on April 30th.

Good Ole Country Concert is always looked forward to and this one was no exception. Harold entertained the crowd with country music along with facts and background information on the artists. Harold fielded several requests for Elvis Presley songs to a song that had special meaning to a couple. Harold will be back on July 30th at 6:00 PM. Come join us.
